Modular digitization platform for process automation / Efficient document management possible / PwC clients benefit from prompt, customized implementation / Market for workflow automation grows to 17 billion US dollars by 2023

Frankfurt/Mannheim, February 12, 2020 – Auditing and consulting company PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) and JobRouter AG, provider of a flexible platform solution for digital business transformation, announce their partnership. The collaboration gives PwC clients the opportunity to optimize their workflow, manage their data and documents, and efficiently digitalize their internal and external business processes.

"Companies should approach their digital transformation as holistically and effectively as possible. Our platform can be extended at will via individual modules and standardized templates. Companies thus receive a comprehensive system tailored to their needs," explains Axel Ensinger, Co-CEO & CPO of JobRouter AG.

As a JobRouter partner, PwC now offers its clients access to this modern, networked platform that covers all phases of process automation. For example, general release processes can be handled with documents, application procedures, or legally compliant signatures. The application can be implemented promptly, helps to accelerate processes and make them more transparent, and enables comprehensive controlling.

"We are looking forward to a successful partnership with JobRouter. The cooperation will enable us to offer our clients an additional opportunity to digitalize their workflows efficiently and in a customized way," comments Rainer Wilken, Partner at PwC in the Financial Services area.

Experts estimate that the market for workflow automation will grow to 17 billion US dollars per year by 2023. In 2017, sales in this segment were still just under 5 billion US dollars.
